

Casa d' Era – Lajatico (Pisa) - close to nature

An elegant structure founded in 2002 after a comprehensive restoration effort rendered habitable an antique farmhouse in Lajatico, right in the middle of the region.

The farm's position in Lajatico is the place, where the famous singer Andrea Bocelli was born and still becoming an international star for his incredibly moving voice. In the same area you also find Teatro del Silenzio an open air Amphitheatre, which hosts concerts by Andrea Bocelli, its honorary president, during July - August. The Theatre is remaining silent the rest of the year.

Casa d' Era's 8 apartments are the ideal solution for those in search of a relaxing holiday among nature, culture, food and wine. Each one of these apartments is completely autonomous, taking their names from famous Italian operas: Butterfly, Turandot, Rigoletto, Bohème, Nabucco, Traviata, Tosca and Aida.

They keep the suggestive spirit of ancient times intact thanks to the elegance of their arched ceilings, authentic stone walls, wooden beams, vintage fireplaces and elegant marble bathrooms.

The magical experience of blending both the traditions of the past and the convenience of the present takes place inside these apartments in Tuscany. Old-fashioned rural style goes harmoniously in hand with modern day amenities.

Every accommodation that you rent is equipped with independent air conditioning and heating systems, bathroom, Sat-TV and a kitchen furnished with a microwave oven, dishwasher and refrigerator, for an even more suitable stay.

These lodgings' class and sophistication are reflected in the rooms' names, taken from major Italian operas such as Rigoletto, Bohème, Butterfly, Turandot, Nabucco, Traviata, Aida and Tosca. Rent some holiday apartments and enjoy the lush scenery of wheat fields, olive groves and soothing Tuscan hills that they offer!

Culture and history are within reach. The cities of Pisa, Volterra, San Gimignano, Livorno, Florence and Siena are nearby our premises.
